Anthony Foster is managing partner of Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer in Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City offices. He has headed the firm's Vietnam operations since 1994 and is based in the Hanoi office. He has advised on numerous inward investment, infrastructure, commercial and financing transactions in Vietnam and writes and speaks regularly on developments in Vietnamese law, particularly in the area of infrastructure, project finance and M&A. As a UK-US dual national, he is an ex-chairman of the American Chamber of Commerce and a vice-chairman of the British Business Group in Vietnam.

His experience includes advising:

- numerous investment funds, both in respect of their establishment and their subsequent investments in Vietnam;
- numerous foreign investors on their acquisitions in Vietnam;
- numerous private sector infrastructure projects, both in the development and financing stages; and
- leading banks on their financing activities in Vietnam.
